AGENTS ASSOCIATION

MY FACE IS MY OWN

is a petition campaign spearheaded by the British Fashion Model Agents Association (BFMA), launched in response to the urgent need for stronger protections against the unauthorized use of model likenesses by AI technologies.

This initiative, supported by some 2,338 professional models, calls for immediate recognition of individual image rights and the establishment of clear ethical boundaries in the use of AI.

It highlights the critical importance of safeguarding personal identity in an increasingly digital world.

For most fashion shoots, there are teams including photographers, hair and make-up artists, stylists and more. None are protected and, without regulation, may well become victims of the the next evolution of digital tools

THE PETITION

This petition letter was prepared by the British Fashion Model Agents Association, the trade Association of the UK model industry. It was founded in 1974 to protect and manage the careers of models. This continues to be the aim of the Association. The Association has followed closely the Government's consultation and response on Artificial Intelligence ("AI") and is aware of international developments relating to AI and models.

The Association has discussed this topic with stakeholders, and it writes on behalf of the signatories attached to this petition with respect to the issues set out herein. It is the signatories' view that without appropriate safeguards in place, unrestrained use of AI technologies may significantly damage the careers of many in the industry and that swift action must be taken.

First and foremost, this letter confirms unequivocally that the model signatories, do not (and have not) granted any permission for their likeness, image, and/or characteristics, to be used for any artificial intelligence purposes, including without limitation for or in connection with the training; development; or operation of large language models or generative AI models, tools or systems or for machine learning or deepfake purposes.

Express written consent should be obtained from applicable individuals for any such use on specifically agreed licensing terms. Such consent must be given on a voluntary basis and must be uncoerced, furthermore, it should not be conditioned on agreement to other terms. Consent should come direct from models and should be provided prior to any AI use that takes place.

Furthermore, the Association and signatories, feel that it is important to highlight the existing gap in legislative protection in the UK for the exploitation and protection of image rights. The current legal framework is a variety of different areas of law including data protection, the tort of passing off, performer's rights, advertising codes and criminal legislation. However, there is currently no single clear legal protection for misuse of an individual's image (including for AI purposes). This current position, where the protection is so piecemeal, results in unequal bargaining power between commercial stakeholders and leaves individuals exposed to unauthorised use of their image.

There are several international laws/legislative plans to tackle the use of non-consensual digital replicas and misuse of an individual's likeness including in the EU and the USA. We encourage the UK Government to also address this issue clearly and effectively in its coming AI legislation.

Without clear protections, models face their images being used without consent or compensation and there could be a dramatic loss of jobs within the industry.
